

Problem Statement

Java

Create a class Employee with data member id, name, sal and commission and create a constructor to initialize them.

Your task is to find the number of employees in a company at any point of time and also find the lowest paid employee.

Note : The lowest paid employee should have sal + commission value minimum.