Problem Statement
Java

Create a Student class with rollno, name, totalmarks as data members and create a constructor to initialize them.

Now create the array of students were array size given by the user.

Now find the topper of class by comparing total marks of student and finally display the rollno, name and marks of topper student.